the Interior fit out process initial site survey, client requirements discussion drawings created showing existing building interior and any other areas of the project initial discussions with building control to check that the scheme satisfies building regulations drawings and quotations submitted to customer client approval for commencement of the project full design and drawings submitted to building control for approval of building regulations commencement dates confirmed with client installation of the project and rest of the scheme project supervised by the experienced bid project managers on satisfactory completion of the project, the job is signed off and handed over to the client whatever the size of your project, bid can provide a CAD design and planning service. drawings can be produced in 2D, 3D and 3D rendered to give clients a graphic impression of how an interior would look.

our approach is to work with clients to ensure maximum and most effective use of space. at the same time users needs are kept in the forefront of our mind, thus ensuring that the final interiors system provides an exact solution to individual requirements.
