Riva

SOCIAL SPACES

All work no play makes the office a dull place; a philosophy increasingly being embraced in the workplace, as designers seek to bring joy to work.

Riva's dynamic yet simple design, with a seat turned upward in the likeness of a smile, delivers a sense of fun in an elegant, practical frame. A refined yet bold selection of hues and shades accompanies the range, providing a choice of stylish colourways for a delightful finishing touch.

work meets play

“The curves define the structure of Riva, a high stool with a minimalist yet expressive and joyful design, with a comfortable and welcoming seat.”

Meneghello Paoelli Associati

Marco Paoelli and Sandro Meneghello, the product designers behind Riva, founded Meneghello Paoelli Associati in Milan, 2007. Since then, their studio has flourished, adding a team of collaborators to their ranks and collecting an extensive variety of awards and recognition for their craft and designs.

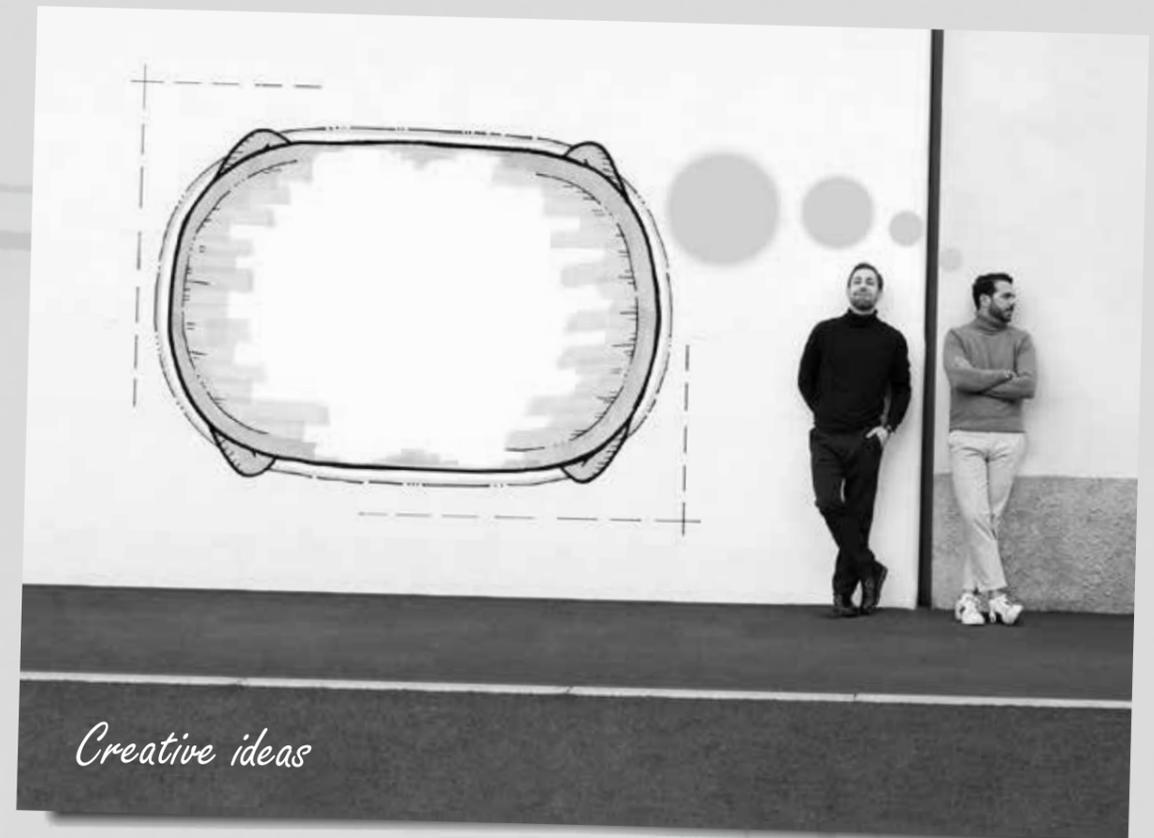

The expertise of Paoelli and Meneghello shines through in Riva. Bold yet minimalist, Riva presents a fresh approach to the high stool, with a shape that catches the eye and the imagination.

Viewed from certain angles, the stool seems almost two-dimensional, yet Riva is deceptively sturdy; its sophisticated design combines durable material with refined detailing for enduring functionality.

versatility

Elegance and practicality meet their perfect match in Riva, with a friendly, embracing shape that provides extensive comfort to its user, while taking up little space in the room.

With a varied palette of sophisticated hues and tones, the selection of finishes allows Riva to either blend harmoniously with its environment or provide a pop of colour, subject to your preference.

A mind at play is often at its most creative, and placing Riva in the meeting room sparks a new vigour in collaboration.

With playful yet sophisticated shape and hue, the mind and body are kept alert and engaged, delivering an energy to any meeting – whether formal or informal.
